

Bredahl-Baker Forms An Instant Partnership With Komo At CDS And GAIG/USDF Region 7 Championships

Sheri Scott

Charlotte Bredahl-Baker wasn't planning on attending the California Dressage Championships this year, but she came home from the Murieta Equine Complex in Rancho Murieta, Calif., with the majority of the championship awards in the FEI classes, Oct. 13-16.

Bredahl-Baker is now riding Komo, the 13-year-old, Dutch Warmblood gelding by G Ramiro Z previously trained by the late Carol Plough. When Bredahl-Baker competed in Europe with her Olympic mount Monsieur, she left her second Grand Prix horse, Lugano, with her long-time friend, Plough.

When Komo's owners, Kathy and Tom Pavlich of Highland, Calif., offered the horse to Bredahl-Baker, she was very honored. Plough's husband, Bill, also called and told her she would have been Carol's choice to ride Komo.

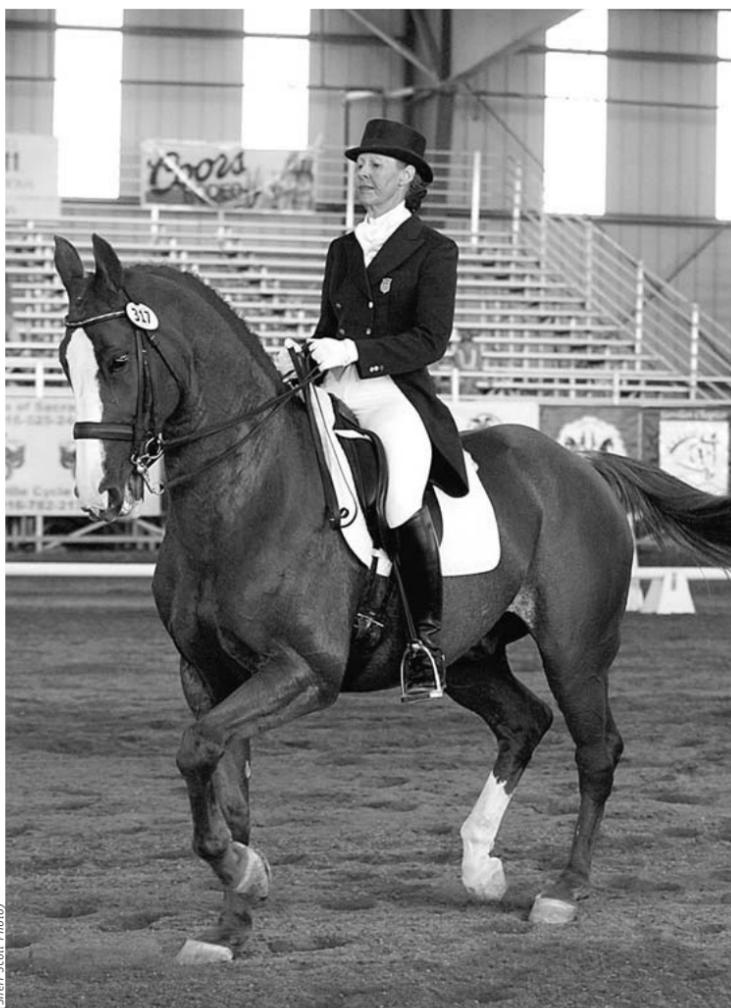

"Carol did a wonderful job training Komo, and I know how much work it takes to make a Grand Prix horse," said Bredahl-Baker. "Komo is an incredible horse and so much like my Olympic horse Monsieur that I feel like I have known him forever. We really click. He's a character like Monsieur. He's a spirited horse, but in a good way. He has lots of go and loves to work."

Komo won all of his classes—the California Dressage Society championship Grand Prix (67.18%), the GAIG/USDF Grand Prix (68.22%) and the GAIG/USDF Grand Prix freestyle (74.31%). He also won the warm-up Grand Prix (69.47%).

Bredahl-Baker said Komo got better and better as the show went on. In their second test, the GAIG/USDF Grand Prix, they had mistakes in the changes, but Bredahl-Baker thought that was just a matter of getting their timing together.

"I was thrilled with our last test," said Bredahl-Baker. "His passage felt awesome, and his piaffe is feeling better all the time as I'm getting to know him. Everyone says he looks so relaxed. He feels like he is, and I love the way he feels."

Charlotte Bredahl-Baker showed she was instantly at home on Komo, winning the CDS Grand Prix, GAIG/USDF Grand Prix and GAIG/USDF Grand Prix freestyle.

Bredahl-Baker turns Komo out in a 30-by 30-meter paddock all day. When the Pavlichs first imported Komo he jumped out of his pen, so Plough didn't turn him out, but Bredahl-Baker puts all her horses out during the day.

"For a horse with a very active mind, which he definitely has, I think it's very good for him, and he loves it," said Bredahl-Baker. "He drags you out there every morning."

Bredahl-Baker rode Komo to Monsieur's freestyle music—the Olympic fanfare and music from the soundtracks of the Superman and Raiders of the Lost Ark movies. Komo's the only horse that she's had since Monsieur where the music has felt right.

"He's that same really powerful mover," said Bredahl-Baker. "Everyone that has seen it says the music fits him perfectly. We got an 8 on the music."

Bredahl-Baker changed the choreography a bit for Komo, making the canter work less difficult until she has more confidence in their partnership. She's working on a new freestyle for next year.

"Charlotte is doing a great job with Komo," said Kathy Pavlich. "They look like they've been together forever. She's got such a soft way of going, and she just brings it out in the horse. He looks so soft now. He's much more relaxed."

► Growing Up

Bredahl-Baker also took home the championship coolers in the CDS open Prix St. Georges (70.00%), the GAIG/USDF open Prix St. Georges (70.62%) and the CDS Intermediaire freestyle (71.87%) with Eskada, an 8-year-old, Dutch Warmblood gelding she owns in partnership with Sayoko Nakatani of Japan. They were also the reserve champions in the CDS open Intermediaire I (69.87%) and the GAIG/USDF open Intermediaire I (69.12%).

"The one thing I was really happy about with Eskada at this show compared to last year was that he wasn't spooky and he wasn't silly," said Bredahl-Baker. "Spookiness has been something I've dealt with, and he didn't have one test at this show where that was an issue. Every time he went in the ring he went to work, and he didn't look for distractions. Even when I did my freestyle Saturday night he was very good. A year whole new inspiration."

Pavlich also brought home championships with her 7-year-old, Hanoverian gelding, Bocelli. They won the CDS third level adult amateur championship (69.42%), the GAIG/USDF third level adult amateur championship (70.22%) and their third level warm-up class (69.04%).

"I enjoyed every single ride that I had on him," said Pavlich. "He's just really a nice show horse because he takes everything in stride and doesn't get tense. He's very easy to train. He loves to get out and work."

Pavlich purchased Bocelli three years ago. Debbie and Bob McDonald found him in Germany. He is by Brentano II, the sire of Debbie McDonald's Olympic mount, Brentina.

"He's a lot like Brentina in some of his mannerisms and his easy way of going," said Pavlich. "I remind myself every day how fortunate I am to have him."

► Another Notch

Tanya Vik, of San Rafael, Calif., rode her 9-year-old, Hanoverian gelding Divinity 3, by Don Primero, to the championship in the GAIG/USDF Intermediaire I open division with a 69.62 percent. Divinity 3 was imported by Karen Piper as a 5-year-old and came to Vik for training. She purchased him from Piper when he was 6. "He's really cool," said Vik. "He turned out better than I expected. I wasn't quite sure when I bought him. He's not particularly a super great mover. He just wasn't the kind of horse you say, 'Wow, that's my next FEI horse!'"

But the horse's temperament and work ethic can't be beat. "He's such a hard worker and such a good show horse," Vik said. "He's so focused at shows, and he's always there to work for you. That makes up for a lot of other stuff. He's all business when he's showing."

Vik actually preferred her third-placed Prix St. Georges ride on Friday morning (67.87%) over her winning ride Friday afternoon in the Intermediaire I. Both tests were mistake free, but she thought the morning test had more pizzazz.

Worth The Work

Not many people could keep up with Nancy Szakacs. She gets up at 4:30 a.m. on weekdays to feed her five horses and take care of her parrot and cockatiel. Then she's out of the house by 5:45 a.m. to catch the 6 a.m. train for an hour ride to work at a Sunnyvale pharmaceutical firm.

The train brings her home around 6 p.m. so she can start cleaning stalls and feeding. After all this she rides her two competition horses and returns to the house for dinner by 9 or 10 p.m.

She admitted that it's a crazy life, but she's driven. And that's what earned her the CDS adult amateur futurity championship, the CDS training level adult amateur championship and the GAIG/USDF training level adult amateur championship with Ruschkoi. She also earned the GAIG/USDF Intermediaire I adult amateur championship with Normann.

Szakacs first saw Ruschkoi, a 5-year-old, Rhinelander gelding by Riccione out of a Russian Trakehner mare, in Germany last fall at Jo Hinneman's barn. He was being ridden by her trainer, Heidi Gaian. Gaian and her mother, Pam Nelson, imported Ruschkoi with a group of four other young horses early this year.

"He has a great attitude, and he is very easy and very straight forward," said Szakacs. "He has great gaits and is really willing to work. He's just so much fun! But he does have a little streak of being opinionated too."

Normann, a 10-year-old, Dutch Warmblood gelding by Inspekteur, didn't much care for the awards ceremony in the main indoor ring.

"By the time we had our next class in the main arena he was looking for all the commotion that was going on for the awards ceremony," said Szakacs. "So he wasn't really in tune to me. That test didn't turn out as well as I had hoped or as well as I think he can do."

But overall, Szakacs was happy with him. "I feel like he's come along in his training significantly. He's more engaged behind, and he's just able to do the movements much more correctly and easily. That's exciting for me. I can see the improvement and feel the improvement, but somehow I've got to get his head together. That might take a bit of doing," she added with a laugh.

Szakacs purchased Normann as a green-broke 3-year-old from Nelson.

Nancy Szakacs and Ruschkoi trotted off with three titles at training level at the CDS and GAIG/USDF Reg. 7 championships.

"He just keeps stepping up to the plate more and more and more," said Vik. "When you think maybe he's doing all he can do he puts in another notch. It's really exciting."

Vik, who is based at Riverside Equestrian Center in Petaluma, Calif., has been a dressage trainer since 1988. She has ridden with Sandy Howard of Watsonville, Calif., for years and takes clinics a few times a year with David Hunt of England. Since moving her business to Petaluma, Vik has also started riding with Lilo Fore of Santa Rosa, Calif.

"I feel like I have very, very good help right now," said Vik. "I've found people who are really great to work with."

Wet Weather Won't Stop Corrigan At BLM Championships

Josh Walker

As the rain fell on Oct. 7-9, Kelly Corrigan and her mount, Wenzel Lad, rose to claim the Intermediaire I championship and Prix St. Georges reserve championship at the Garden State Classic Dressage and 23rd Annual Col. Bengt Ljungquist Memorial Championships in Allentown, N.J.

Wenzel Lad and Corrigan, of Centreville, Md., were unaffected through the sloppy footing. "[Wenzel Lad] didn't think twice about the rain or the mud," said Corrigan, who scored 67.12 percent in the Intermediaire I and 65.50 percent for the Prix St. Georges.

The 10-year-old Danish Warmblood and Corrigan have been competing together since Wenzel was 3. Training with Bent Jensen has been paying off as Wenzel's performance in the ring noticeably steps up.

"When he's in the show ring, he really seems to turn on," said Corrigan. "We've been working on the Grand Prix movements, and hopefully this winter we'll be able to push him on a little bit and get him to the Intermediaire II."

Before Wenzel, Corrigan owned and competed a Grand Prix horse called Marsaelis, whom she rode for nine years. "We started at first level and moved on up," said Corrigan. "That's what I'm hoping for now with Wenzel Lad."

Marsaelis, now 15, is owned and ridden by one of Corrigan's students, Robin Shehan. Marsaelis and Shehan finished as reserve champions in a division of the fourth level senior final.

Corrigan also brought her 5-year-old Danish Warmblood, Robinson. The pair bolstered the weekend's ribbon count with victories in the open show in training level, test 4 (67.69%), and open first level, test 1 (74.07%).

Corrigan and Robinson have been training together for two months, with BLM being his second show. Though his greenness occasionally shows, Corrigan is optimistic about the young horse's potential.

"He actually snuck out of the ring during one test," Corrigan said with a laugh. "He picked up the canter and decided he wanted to go visit everybody else. But he definitely did well in the other classes."

As for Wenzel Lad, Corrigan plans to take him to Florida in January where the pair will train with Jensen.

Lord Of The Dance Steps To Victory

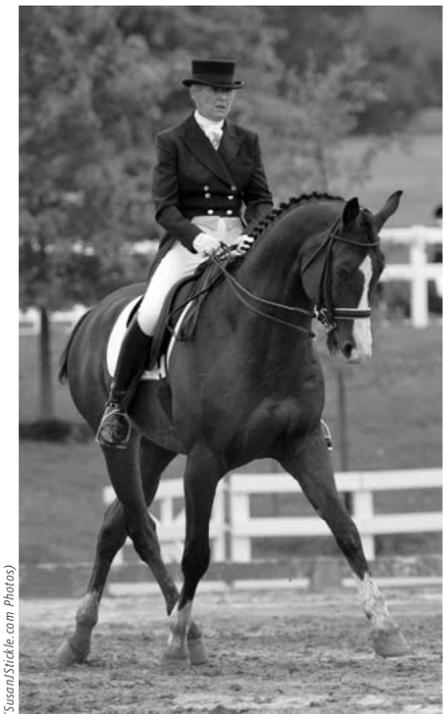

Fred Weber's Lord Of The Dance performed in harmony with the exotic sounds of a Caribbean steel band in the third level freestyle championship. The finals were held on Friday, allowing the pair to ride their test before the weekend's rain.

"I thought the classes for the freestyle were somewhat small," said Weber. "I would have liked to see more riders in the class, but there were talented horses and riders there for sure."

Lord Of The Dance, casually known as "Louie," is a 10-year-old, Holsteiner stallion by Lordship, and owned by Ray and Fran Selvy of Bluemont, Va. Weber has competed with Louie for six years.

"He's been competitive in all levels," said

Weber. "We've shown in first, second and third level, and we're at fourth level now." Louie has also earned Holsteiner All-Breed year-end awards.

Louie's freestyle movements easily fell into rhythm with the music. "Louie's owner actually found the music. It really seemed to fit the horse," said Weber. Judges agreed and awarded the pair a score of 68.85 percent for the win.

Beyond the dressage ring, Louie's mellow temperament and love of jumping and eventing have made him a well-rounded horse. "We have a cross-country course behind the farm that I take him out to. We do some small jumps to keep his mind sharp," said Weber. "Years ago we also did some eventing together, so he gets to see a variety of work. Some of my students get to ride him once in awhile too."

Weber, of Frederick, Md., hopes to bring Louie out at Prix St. Georges next year. "We've still got a few months yet, and he's coming along just fine," said Weber.

Mason Wins With Respekt

Heather Mason, of Lebanon, N.J., and her up-and-coming gelding, Respekt, also took home two BLM championships, in the fourth level freestyle (69.58%) and in one of the senior fourth level divisions (68.14%).

"He handled very well in the wet weather," said Mason. Her leggy, 17-hand, black gelding performed with the movement and consistency Mason initially fell in love with. "I had originally imported him for resale. Once I started riding him I discovered how well he moved and decided, 'This one is mine!'"

The Dutch Warmblood, by Inspekteur, arrived to Mason four years ago, unbroken at the age of 3. Since then, the two have been training and competing, making progress with each stride.

"He's very elastic and smooth in the ring," said Mason. "He has a nice and consistent canter but is still a bit bouncy in the trot. But I think he'll grow out of the springiness as he continues to mature."

Respekt's long legs also lifted the pair to victory in a Prix St. Georges class in the open show (68.50%).

"I see this horse going all the way once he finishes maturing. He keeps getting stronger as he gets older," said Mason.

Mason has certainly made her mark at BLM over the years, taking home six championships at training level and multiple first level classes aboard her 9-year-old, gray mare, Integrity, and Nimbus, her 16-hand, Dutch Warmblood stallion. She has also competed there with her Grand Prix horse, FC Fantasy, to claim an Intermediaire II championship.

Mason is president and head trainer at Flying Change Farm in Tewksbury, N.J.

Along with Respekt, she also rode Integrity this year, placing sixth in the Prix St. Georges finals, and she guided A Knight To Remember, a 4-year-old Haflinger, to a fifth place in the training level finals.
